Tree 'Breaks Fall'-Saves Truck

One sturdy tree 'broke the fall' of the oak at the left which split and fell early Tuesday afternoon on top of Monroe Dyess' truck and tractor at his farm in the Stonewall District, Robert Dyess, 5th grader, and Mary Dyess, 4th grader, inspected the damage after school on Tuesday, Jan. 26 following a day of high wind gusts (estimated 40-50 mph) which caused power failures, toppled trees and signboards over a wide area of Virginia. The Dyess family considers itself lucky -- only minor damage was sustained by the truck and tractor.

Valuable Picture Is Rescued

Dr. W. P. Geisler, optometrist, whose office on Church Street was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, Jan. 28, said that almost all of his belongings could be replaced except for this photograph of Attorney John Woodson, whose law office is one of the attractions of the restored buildings and grounds at Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. He found the photo and frame face down on the floor in a back portion of the building, the photo scratched but frame still almost intact except for broken glass. Dr. Geisler plans to set up an office on the second floor of the former Times-Virginian location on Main Street.

Jr. Women's Club

For Junior Woman's Club members, Tuesday night's meeting was a U. S. history lesson and discussion of foreign policy as Representative Watkins M. Abbitt (center) told president Mrs. S. L. Ferguson, III (left), and Mrs. Ben Harvey (right) and other members that he hopes that U. S. foreign affairs "this is the darkness, just before the dawn." Rep. Abbitt expressed cautious optimism insofar as the Vietnam conflict is concerned. Noting that the Junior Club members are interested in world affairs, he called attention to hunger throughout the world contrasting the wealth of the U. S. to that of other people. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Ben Harvey, 1st Vice-President, acting on behalf of Mrs. Donald Almond, chairman of International Affairs, who was unable to be present at the meeting.

■ He keeps abreast of latest farming methods, he recommends farm equipment that's tailored to your needs – but only when you need it.

■ He deals fairly with all customers, providing them with the kind of service they would want if he were farming.

■ He earns a fair profit so he can continue to serve you in years to come.

These are the principles of a New Idea dealer. We subscribe to them—and we practice them in our everyday dealings. They're good reasons why we've been appointed a Franchised Dealer for New Idea equipment.
